Target Audience

This training opportunity is aimed at city and county road maintenance or public works agencies in Washington interested in understanding the benefits and how to seek coverage under ESA 4d with NOAA Fisheries. The intended audience of this training is managers of road maintenance and local agency public works departments.

Instructors

Roy Harris from the City of Everett; Janine Johanson of King County; and Gregor Myhr from WSDOT

Description and Objectives

The Regional Road Maintenance Program (RRMP) is a group of road maintenance agencies that have been approved with coverage under Section 4(d) of the Endangered Species Act (ESA) with NOAA Fisheries. The RRMP is providing this training to local road maintenance agencies that are interested in understanding how to apply for coverage under the RRMP. This training will:

- Provide an Overview of the ESA 4(d) Regional Road Maintenance Program (RRMP)
- Explain how the program provides coverage for road maintenance actions under the Endangered Species Act
- Explain the benefits of coverage under the program
- Explain the Process for Program Approval under ESA 4(d)
